Adobe Media Encoder CC 2018 v12.0.1.64Throughout human history, mankind has engaged in activities that benefit other people. Some of those activities involve direct, physical contributions to people's lives or the environment in which they live. Others include financial contributions to needy people. Still other activities allow people to communicate with, relate to, or communicate with other people. None of these activities are mutually exclusive to other activities. Thus, mankind has found a multitude of ways for people to participate in activities that benefit others. However, many of these activities that contribute to benefiting others are currently subject to very high costs and/or require very high skill levels. Thus, traditional participation in activities that
